

EXPERIMENTS AGAINST R.A.F. SIDE

Wycombe Wanderers 3
R.A.F. National XI 1

THREE second half goals, with two in a minute from Tony Horseman, gave Wycombe an unexpected victory over this compact R.A.F. side at Loakes Park on Tuesday evening, after the R.A.F. had taken a deserved lead after 25 minutes, through Riley.

Proceeds from the match went to the Berks and Bucks benevolent fund. Manager Barry Darvill tried several experiments with the side. Ian Rundle was back to centre-half with Vic Faulkner switching to left-back and Paul Bates on the right wing.

Wanderers' playing their third match in four days, looked tired and laboured in the first half and the attack often lacked support from behind but in the second period they fought back strongly, with Horseman and Busby prominent. Busby created openings to allow Horseman to add two further goals and Horseman returned the compliment by laying on Busby's goal.

Wycombe Wanderers, second-half changes in brackets—Bunting (Wells); Eyres, Faulkner (Roy-stone); Baker, Rundle (Priestley), Gale; Bates, Samuels, Busby, Horseman, Merrick (Holmes)
